Lathrop, William Minns, Wilmot Oakley, James D. Smith, Chales A. Baldwin, Edward Bill, Ellas Deater, Samuel Dawson, John L. Olcott, Archibald A. Peterson, Ellas Ponvert, Stephen Philibie, Robert W. Rodman, Hiram Winner, Robert T. Woodward, Eithanan Thorn.

The panel was not made up until siter eighty-six had been summoned, and the Recorder, in reference to this matter, charged as follows:

"I had occasion, at the last meeting of the Grand Jury, to call attention to the fact that some of our first citizens habitually neglect Jury duty. The press at the time class called attention to the subject, and I had hoped that there would have been some improvement in the mostler. But in this I am disappointed. Upon the calling of this Court to order, yesterday morning, only six of the persons onto fifty summoned to serve on this Grand Jury answered to their names. There were twelve more this morning. There is the same difficulty with the Petit Jury. It is a newal occurrence that but few persons who have been summoned sower to their names, and most of these ask to be excused. Where there are cases of ill health, or where sacrifices in business or otherwise are too great, the Court is willing to excuse persons from Jury services. But there are too many cases where men of property, high social position and character, are thus neglectif of a public daty, and the Ceurt calls attention to this circumstance."

TUESDAY, September 3-P. M.

The more cheerful feeling which has been noticed in the Stock market since the success of the Federaly arms at Hatteras Inlet still continues, and the market to-day exhibited more activity than for some time past, with a buoyant feeling, which, however, did not result in any important advance. The principal buyers are the shorts, who are being pinched for several descriptions of shares and who are endeavoring to throw ferward their contracts in the hope that within sixty days some disaster may happen which will relieve them from their position. The principal dealings to-day were in cash stock, the market not taking sellers options with any freedom, and there being little or no demand for buyers' options. A sucreseful land battle would undoubtedly increase the volume of speculation at the Board, but the public cannot be drawn in to take any considerable interest in the Stock movement in the present disturbed state of the country. Central was firm, and advanced to 731. an improvement of ? ? cent. The competition for traffic over the trunk roads does not appear to alarm the balls, although the suppression of the monthly reports of earnings is calculated to excite apprehensions that the earnings have largely decreased. Galena was buoyant under the successful negotiation in regard to the coming due bonds, and advanced to 66%. The shorts were free buyers of cash stock. Burlington and Quincy and Rock Island were better, and the latter was in good demand. Between the Boards the market was quiet and unchanged, excepting for Pacific Mail, which advanced to 76 a 761. At the Second Board the dealings were unimportant in amount, but quotations were well sustained and firm in the street after the regular session. The market for Government securities has been very firm during the day, and the transactions have been restricted by the firmness of holders. The sixes of 1881 are 884 a 894—the latter bid for coupon stock. The fives of 1865 sold at 86, and those of 1871 at 791. Six & cent Treasury Notes were in good demand, and not offered very freely. At the Second Board 98 was bid at the close, without inducing sales. State Bonds have been fairly active-the bulk of the transactions being in Missouris, of which $136,000 were sold, closing at 41%. The strong ploclamation of Gen. Fremont has brought in new buyers. The uncertainty hanging over political affairs in Kentucky has had an unfavorable effect upon the bonds of that State, and they are offered at 74, against 77 last sales. Tennessees improved | W cent, Virginias | W cent, &c. There is rather more inquiry for Bank stock, and quotations are rather firmer. The bide to-day were: Off d. Asked | Off d. |

Mr. Cisco has been kept very busy to-day in signing certificates for deposits on the new Treasury notes. The applicants to-day amount to about 250, mostly for small amounts. In addition to this, the banks have paid in $3,500,000, being the third installment of 10 $ cent on the Treasury note loan. The draft for this amount was made by the Secretary on Mr. Stevens of the Bank of Commerce, Chairman of the Committee, &c., who apportioned the payment among the banks. Mr. Ci co has received a draft from the Secretary of the Treasury on himself for $702,000, being for principal and interest of Treasury notes sold at the Sub-Treasury for account of the banks. This amount has been paid over to the Committee for distribution. De-ducting this amount, the banks have invested in the new loan $9,800,000

The circular of the Secretary asking for subscriptions to the National loan, gives the takers the option of paying the whole amount at the time of subscription or of paying one-tenth at that time and one-third every twentieth day thereafter. This is very awkardly expressed, but we presume the Secretary means one-third of the remainder, which gives an aggregate time of sixty days. No orders have, however, yet been received by Mr. Cisco from the Department to receive such installment subscriptions.

Outside subscriptions yesterday to the National loan were made at Philadelphia to the extent of $135,000. The Jefferson Insurance Company has declared a dividend of $3 $ share, payable on demand. The cashier of the Manhattan Company gives notice that the New-York State Transfer Office will be closed for the October interest on Wednesday, the 10th inst., and remain closed till the 1st proximo.

The payment of the February, 1862, First Mortgage Bonds of the Galena Road has been assumed by capitalists here, and all parties who do not wish the new twenty-year sheets of coupons can have their money. This leaves the Company free to use its earnings in a dividend, which will be 5 or 7 F cent in January, and perhaps sooner. The Company has sufficient funds on hand to make a 5 P cent dividend, and may think it the true policy of the Company to do so sooner than January. To meet the extended bonds of the whole first and the second issue the Company have established a novel sinking fund which will retire them all at maturity. The Sinking Fund of the Second Mortgage is a fixed sum of $109,000 P annum, but that of the First Mortgage increases yearly as the coupon payments decrease until 1882, when the debt is wiped out-the Sinking Fund for 1881 being $242,000. This result is arrived at without increasing the annual charge for Sinking Fund and Interest. The operation of the First Mortgage Sinking Fund and the aggregate yearly payments for Sinking Fund and Interest on both the mortgages are shown in the annexed table from the Circu-

The first special sale of dry goods at anction this season was of shawls this morning by Van Wyck, Townsend & Warrens. The goods were of the importation of Messrs. Schorndorf & Gentil and Passavant & Co. The sale was for cash. A good company of buyers was in attendance. Prices realized were lower than usual. but still considered tolerably fair. The first 240 lots of square broches brought $1 82 @ $3 75, mostly $1 874, which is about 37 ic. lower than usual. The first 100 lots of long shawls brought $4 2 $4 25. The catalogue numberd 646 lots. At private sale printing cloths sold at 6c., and all domestic fabrics are very firm. At Providence 86,000 pieces print clothe sold at 54c. 254c.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says:

In monetary circles there is very little doing, and no change from the present stagmant condition of milairs can be anticipated until there is more activity in business silairs. The official returns of the banks toness silairs. The official returns of the banks to-morrow will show a decline of $700,000 in their specie deposits for the last two weeks. Meanwhile they have paid into the Sub-Treasury, on account of the United States loan, about one million dellars, which leaves the specie line upward of six millions—more than ample for all present banking purposes. Two of the installments of 10 % cent cach of the five-million loan has already been paid, and another 10 $\theta$ cent will be paid in a few days. The gold has already commenced returning to the banks from the Government contractors. The Chicago Tribune remarks:

The curely of Eastern exchange is still heavier than the requirements of our merchants, and rates rule dull at par to $\frac{1}{2} \Psi$ cent premium. Currency is in good demand, and scarce. Gold is in good request at $\frac{1}{2} \# \frac{1}{2} \Psi$

The San Francisco Shipping List says of money matters:

The Money market is quiet, demand moderate though somewhat increased, and terms easy upon approved securities. We are cognizant of a negotiation to-day for a considerable amount at 14 $\phi$ cent per month upon merchandise collaterals. With bankers and dealers, however, the rates are still 14 $\pi 2$ $\phi$ can be a considerable and the control of the co month upon merchandise collaterals. With bankers and dealers, however, the rates are still 1 a 2 \(\psi$ cent for short loans. Within a few days some of our moneylenders have been disposed to reserve their means to, perhaps, a greater extent than usual, for such loans as can be called in speedily in the event of any sudden emergency at the East, which may be likely to affect financial matters on this side; but the requirements of borrowers are such, that this restriction causes no perceptible inconvenience.

Gold Bars, on the departure of the last steamer, were current at $30 for account, but the demand for China has kept the supply down, and the offering today is very light. We quote sales at $40 fine, par. Late advices from New-York report sales in that market at $64 a $73. London rates, Standard, £3 17/9 \(\psi$ oz. Nothing from China since our last reference.

The Lloyds cover shipments of treasure per the steamer at 24 \(\psi$ cent, including war risk.

The rates of exchange appear to be hardening somewhat, owing chiefly to the unsettled views of underwriters at the East, which fluctuate from steamer to steamer. Sight bills are to day held at 5 \(\psi$ cent premium, and drawers seem inclined not to deviate.
